[6] The day after the video was released, Grande confirmed the existence of '7 Rings' and revealed the moment that inspired it on Twitter.

5Music videoBackground and release[edit]Grande first teased the track in the music video for 'Thank U, Next', in which the first few seconds of the instrumental are used in the opening sequence, and the license plate of the car she drives reads '7 RINGS'.. The song was written by Grande, Kaydence, Njomza Vitia, Tayla Parx and Victoria Monét alongside its producers Tommy Brown, Charles Anderson and Michael Foster, with the interpolation of 'My Favorite Things' by Rodgers and Hammerstein.. [11]In March 2019, Iagem/Concord Music, which owns the Rodgers & Hammerstein publishing rights, was granted 90 percent of the song's songwriting royalties.. It was released by Republic Records on January 18, 2019, as the second single from the album.. [7]The singer described the song as 'a friendship anthem', later posting the single's artwork on Instagram along with its release date, January 18.
